

On September 30, 1902 William Barber was postmaster²⁷.

The final post office to be established in Enfield was in Enfield Falls at a location, which is uncertain. It was probably in the most settled part of that village on a road north of Five Mile Creek²⁸. This post office was established on May 31, 1882²⁹ with Charles Budd as the first postmaster³⁰. It was discontinued on August 30, 1902³¹.

Since the closing of the Enfield Center post office in 1918, there has been no post office in the Town of Enfield, where rural free delivery is now universal. In this connection, the first mail deliveries in the area began in Ithaca on September 1, 1888 with horse drawn vehicles. Rural route service was established from Ithaca in 1902. Between 1902 and 1910 there were five rural free delivery routes out of Ithaca. Between 1918 and 1926 motorized vehicles replaced horse drawn carriages³². It was at this time (1918) that the last Enfield post office closed.

Examining maps showing settlements and considering the location of successive post offices, it becomes apparent that post offices first followed patterns of settlement along the present Mecklenburg road, with settlements at Applegate's Corners (Enfield), VanDorn's Corners (Enfield Post office) and West Enfield, followed by Enfield Center and Enfield Falls.

Also notable is the part played by technology. With motor vehicles the last Enfield post office closed. Rural free delivery was established and remains today. Perhaps it is fair to speculate that, in the future, paper mail may be uniformly replaced by "electronic mail". What a benefit for dealing with "junk mail" (4th class as the postal authorities would have it!)

Finally, one additional observation on the past. The earlier mails were carried to Enfield by stage coach. The earliest stage coach traveled a route different from the present Mecklenburg road, between "Applegate's Corners and Ithaca. Since the first road laid out (unused by 1879) ran along the present State Route 79 and then southeasterly from Applegate's Corners "to where Nicholas Kirby lived in 1879, thence over the hill, past the old Lovell farm, and over this road was the first stage coach route"³³. Such stages had regular time schedules as shown by an 1883 brochure showing "arrival" and "closing" times for stage mails to and from Enfield Center and Enfield Falls³⁴.
